

Arturo Fuente Don Carlos Eye of The Shark No. 2 $45
Medium/Full Flavor

Landing the #1 Cigar of the Year by Cigar Aficionado 2017, the original Don Carlos cigar (which was released in 1976), but altered a bit for this particular release. If you want to know exactly what makes the Eye of the Shark different from the regular Don Carlos line, you're going to have to use your imagination. The Fuentes are quite guarded as to the particulars of the blend. It's enough to know that the wrapper is from Cameroon and the interior tobaccos are well aged and grown in the Dominican Republic, which is the basic recipe for most Don Carlos cigars.

Padron Serie 1926 No. 2 (Natural) $45
Medium Flavor

Landing the #2 Cigar of the Year by Cigar Aficionado 2017, Padron 1926 Series No. 2 Natural Torpedo cigars are carefully crafted by the most skilled cigar-rollers using tobacco aged for at least 5 years. These special strains of tobaccos are blended masterfully to create exceptional smoothness, complexity, and balance. With the individually numbered guarantee label that is applied to each and every Padron 1926 cigar, those who get to partake are assured a great but smoking experience.

Davidoff Wintson Churchill Commander $45
Medium Flavor

There is only one Winston Churchill and there is only one cigar worthy to bear his name: the exceptional new blend Winston Churchill Toro Habano by Davidoff fits that title now. With its complex pairing of Nicaraguan and Dominican fillers carefully wrapped in a delicious Ecuadorian Habano wrapper, and a medium to full body, this blend is as complex as the man himself.

Fortuna Pyramid Extra by TABAC Trading Co. $27
Medium Flavor

The Fortuna Pyramids Extra is a complex and delicate medium Torpedo, 6'3" (160mm) long, of 54 ring gauge. It is one of the newest vitolas in the most exclusive line of the most prestigious TABAC brand, which was released in 2016 as regular production. The Fortuna blend kicks off with sweet, fruity flavors and a touch of cinnamon, which gives it a spicy but sweet finish. The body is medium and the finish is long. The flavors start to enhance as you smoke through the first half. Earthy flavors now cover the initial sweetness, with some nutmeg also joining in.

Blend #18 by TABAC Trading Co.

$27

Medium/Full Flavor

Presented in February 2016 by TABAC Trading Co, this 54 is the perfect finishing touch to the TABAC Trading Co. range. Its Colorado wrapper is silky smooth to the touch. It is pleasant on the lips, the draw is precise and the first curls have a hint of roasted coffee and cedar notes. The sweetness of this Havana inspired cigar is surprising, its roasted almond flavors combining harmoniously with touches of vanilla. A spicier aromatic taste emerges at the finish. This magnificent cigar provides a beautiful aromatic experience.

DCH - Double Claro Habano by TABAC Trading Co. $27

Medium Flavor

Unique is the word for this masterpiece innovation. Double footed, and pre cut, so all you have to do is pick the side you want to smoke from and light. Too complex to describe in full here, but of you prefer a sweetness on the palate smoke from the candela side first, if you prefer spice on the palate smoke from the habano side first. Then sit back and allow it to open up and dazzle your senses.

RomaCraft Tobak WanderLust Toro

$27

Full/Ultra Full Flavor

This is the Unicorn if there was a cigar. Manufactured in Esteli, Nicaragua under supervision of Skip Martin, this cigar is distributed only in Germany. Only two US retailers have been given the unofficial wink to carry this cigar. The wrapper is beautiful, dark, oily and with some tooth, the triple cap is one of the most beautiful I have seen and the construction feels flawless. The aroma is a deep, characterful manure aroma, medium strong. For those that wonder what the name is about, its a mix between the german "wunder" what means wonder and wanderlust.

My Father 1922 Le Bijou Torpedo

$27

Full Flavor

Landing the #1 Cigar of the Year by Cigar Aficionado 2015, My Father Bijou 1922 Torpedo Box Pressed (6 1/8" x 52) is another knock-out cigar by the cigar geniuses at the My Father Factory in Nicaragua. "Bijou" means "jewel" in French, which is a fitting name for this stellar cigar. So good, in fact, that Cigar Aficionado just announced it as the 2015 Cigar of the Year with an incredible 97 Rating! The tasty blend is formed with Nicaraguan long fillers and an Ecuadorian Habano Osucuro wrapper - another memorable blend from the Pepin Garcia family.

My Father The Judge Toro
Medium/Full Flavor

$27

Landing the #7 Cigar of the Year by Cigar Aficionado 2017, My Father "The Judge" Sumatra Toro Gordo (6" x 56). This medium to full body blend is rolled by hand in Nicaragua using bold Nicaraguan long fillers and binders that are delicately wrapped in a Sumatra wrapper. If you haven't yet tried a cigar from the My Father factory, this is a great one to try.

Montecristo Espada Habano Guard
Medium Flavor

$27

Landing the #20 Cigar of the Year by Cigar Aficionado 2015, Tabacalera de Garcia's Grupo de Maestros, cigar masters doing what they love, joined forces with the Plasencia family to honor the most revered brand in the world: Montecristo. The Montecristo Espada Guard, the first 100% Nicaraguan Montecristo, is hand-crafted with perfectly aged vintage tobaccos grown and masterfully crafted by a revered group of master blenders. A Jalapa Vintage 2010 wrapper perfectly dresses a Habano blend of Jalapa Seco Vintage 2008, Jalapa Viso Ometepe Vintage 2008 and Condega Ligerero Vintage 2008. This cigar will satisfy the most critical smokers.

Avo Syncro Fogata Toro
Full Flavor

$27

Special Toro is a spectacular ultra-premium Nicaraguan cigar that comes dressed in a most stunning Habano 2000 wrapper. The binder is San Andres Negro, and the filler consists of tobaccos from Estelí and Condega as well as specially aged tobaccos from the Dominican Republic. The result is a cigar that delivers a powerfully bold, yet incredibly refined medley of full body flavors. A fusion of coffee, leather, and earth notes mingle in perfect harmony with a deep spicy core and a sweet honey-like aroma.

Sobremesa Elegante en Cedros
Medium-Full Flavor

$20

Sobremesa's filler is blended with United States Broadleaf and choice tobaccos harvested from select Nicaraguan growing regions. The rich Mexican binder is cloaked by a seamless Ecuadorian Habano Rosado wrapper, which glistens with oils extracted during fermentation. This masterpiece flaunts an immaculate triple cap, silky-smooth textures and zesty, savory aromas. Connoisseurs will detect notes of cinnamon, peppery spice, caramel, toasted almond and charred earth accompanied by floral undertones. Sobremesa is a remarkable cigar that will be the highlight of any humidor it is placed in.

Illusione CG4 White Horse

Ultra-Full Flavor

The highest rated cigar in the Illusione portfolio CG4 White Horse is a work of pure genius. The fillers are a bold blend of all Nicaraguan tobaccos consisting of Corojo, Criollo and ligero from two regions with a Colorado Rosado wrapper on the surface. Their cigar has some serious chew, a fair amount of spice, and notes of earth and coffee.

Nat Sherman Metropolitan Habano

Medium Flavor

Ultra Premium Nat Sherman Metropolitan Toro Habano cigars offer a little taste of Havana with every puff. Featuring a classic Dominican Piloto Cubano tobacco recipe, you will experience a creamy smooth cigar with a deep woody core punctuated with mellow to medium body notes of leather, sweet spice, and coffee.

Tatuaje Verocu Havana VI Torpedo

Medium Flavor

Landing the #25 Cigar of the Year by Cigar Aficionado 2014, Tatuaje Verocu Havana VI are hand-rolled in Estelí, Nicaragua with Cuban-seed filler tobaccos and a silky Ecuador Habano wrapper that is gleaming with oil. A bit mellower than other Tatuaje creations this medium body gem will appeal to newcomers, while having more than enough complexity to sooth the veteran smoker. And, with perfectly balanced notes of earth, dark tobacco sweetness, and a touch of pepper.

Crowned Heads Four Kicks Torpedo

Medium-Full Flavor

The song "Four Kicks" by Kings of Leon spoke to co-founder, Jon Huber, giving him a sense of rebellious vigor and added determination to prevail in his new journey. Hand-rolled in the Dominican Republic at Tabacalera La Alianza, this stogie has a unique, medium to full-body. Four Kicks uses a Nicaraguan binder and long-leaf filler, which is cloaked in an Ecuadorian Habano wrapper. The flavors of the mineral rich Nicaraguan soil and the spicy Ecuadorian wrapper intertwine for a well-balanced cigar. Floral aromas dance with citrus notes on the taste buds, while cocoa and earthy notes subtly fade in and out during this smoke.

Maya Selva Flor de Selva Toro

Medium Flavor

Flor de Selva by Maya Selva is a medium bodied long filler cigar handmade in Honduras. A Honduran puro, its Connecticut Shade wrapper is grown in Honduras, with binder and filler also from Honduras (binder from Jamastran, fillers are Viso Jamastran and Lligero Azacualpa) . Made in the San Judas Tadeo factory in Danli, Honduras, the taste profile is woody, with a touch of cedar and dried fruit.

Daniel Marshal 24k Gold Torpedo

$300

Medium Flavor

Ok, simply put...this cigar ain't cheap. Why's that, you say? Because Daniel Marshall DM2 Gold Torpedos come wrapped in up to 25 individual 24 karat gold leaves from Italy's premier gold supplier. No kidding. It's physically encased in a layer of GOLD!

Besides just being eye-catching, this handmade boasts real substance, including a 5-year-aged Nicaraguan Habano wrapper and a well-chosen mix of Nicaraguan long-leaf filler from Jalapa. It comes in a 6.2"x54 figurado shape, and oh yeah, there's that gold you get to burn. Since gold combusts at higher temperature than tobacco leaves, you don't have to worry for one second about lighting it up. Plus, you can even keep the gold ash when you're finished and show it off to your friends. It's better than a trip to the chocolate factory, and that's saying a lot.

Café Crème Blue Cigarillos (20 ct)

$30

Mild/Medium
